PAIR-A HUBBAND SURPRISING HIS WIFE.

Before Justice Welsh.

A very curious affair was brought before Justice Welsh esterday, involving the moral reputation of Mrs. Elizath Jane Roleter, of No. 327 Twelfth street, and one Bernard Finner, proprietor of a clothing store, at No. 176 Bowery—the two having been caught by the lady's husstances which, in his opinion, demanded immediate re-paration. In order, however, to make the case under-stood we must give a brief history of the affair prior to the husband's discovery of the grand developements:—

In the first place, Mrs. Roleter is of Irish birth about twenty-foor years of age, and may be considered a very good looking young woman. Her husband, George Roleter, is a German, and a machinist by trade, and she, to aid in their support, employed herself at making upciothing for various shops, and among them was that of Mr. Pinner, in the Bowery. The last job of work she took from him was a lot of jackets, but not being able to finith them according to appointment, she sent him word to that effect by a mesenger, requesting him to send her the amount of money due her for work done. Mr. Pinner wrote a letter to her in reply, of which the following is a copy, enclosing one dollar and a half-and the sent of the se

Levis Murray took the check and presented it at the bank for payment, but as Mr. Pinner kept no account there of course it was not cashed. Mr. Pinner was still kept in custody, and on the return of Murray, who failed to bring the money, the husband became very indignant, and the rope's end was applied to Mr. Pinner's back for the false pretence practised upon them. At one o'clock another compromise was entered into. Pinner gave up his gold watch and chain, a diamond breast pin, and $20 in money, valued in all at $145. The following is a copy of the certificate given by Pinner;—

The whole safar is a very currous one, and no doubt some remarkable facts and contradictory statements will develope themselves before the magistrate doring the investigation.

A Charge of Obtaviating Goods by False Predence.—Serjeant S. J. Smith, of the lower police court, on Wednesday, arrived from Rochester, having in custody Mr. Timothy Chapman, formerly a merchant of that city, whom he arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Usborne, wherein he stands charged with obtaining from the firm of Hoyt, Illinghast & Co., merchants, 63 Rocatway, a quantity of dry goods on a credit, valued at $1,610, by false and fraudulent representations. It seems by the evidence of Mr. Illinghast, that Mr. Chapman, on the 10th of February has the was there as those of the firm, and wished to purchase a bill of goods and tracted to Chapman to the amount altered when the give him credit, representations. A Charge of Steating a Watch.—On Wednesday night, a man ramed James Hughes was arrested by the police, charged with stealing from Andrew Bresnaban, of Not 142 Anthony street, a silver watch and geld chain, valued at $50. About an hour after the watch was stolen, Hughes was seen offering a watch for sale, which corresponded in its appearance to the one belonging to complainant. Justice Bogart committed the accused to prison for trial.

The Weather.—Yesterday was another of those wet, dreary days, of which we have had so many this spring. For many years past in this latitude there has not failen, in the same length of time, so much rain as within the last three months. It might well be termed a rainy season, for it has been almost one constant shower, storm and drizzle since the opening of March. Our farmers seriously feel its evil consequences in the delay of their spring work; for in this region particularly it is regarded as yet too wet to plant many of the crops that should be in the ground and sprouting at this time of the year. The earth is cold and soppy, and the sced rois in it, or, if taking root, it thrives not well. When will the clerk of the weather hold up the floods, and leave the earth, which is now drank with too much drink, to grow sober again, it to deck hereeff with the green robes of spring? It rained fast all day yesterday, and not till near midnight did the stars saine out, in promise of an end to such foul weather.

WHERE ARK THE POLICE !—On Sunday, night last about 12 o'cleck, as Mr. Locke, a crayon artist, was returning from Brooklyn to New York, and walking up Whitehall street, enjoying his meerschaum, a fellow rushed from one of the low groggeries which abound in that neighborhood, and dealt the unoffending pedestrian a blow on the side of the head, and almost immediately he received another blow on the other side from a second rowly, which prostrated Mr. Locke and completely sunned him. The motive for this wanton attack must have been the mere love of brutality, as the assailants made no attempt at robbery. Mr. Locke, on recovering himself, walked up Broadway, but did not meet a policeman until he came near Fulton street! One or two policemen might perform very efficacious services to the community from the Bowling Green to the South ferry.

girl was found to be missing; and since then she has not returned. The fire was got under with about $290 damage. The furniture was insured for $1,400 in the Broadway Insurance Company. It was thought that the sewant girl had fired the premises.

FIRE.—A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the five story brick building No. 207 Duane street, between Washington and West streets. The firemen were quickly on the spot, but before they gained the command of the flames the interior of the building was wholly destroyed, nothing but the bare walls remaining. The lower story was occupied by Rathbone & Co., grocers, who were partially insured. The upper stories were occupied by J. S. Stebbins & Co., dealers in brandles, wines and Hquors, covered by insurance. The building No. 209 Duane street, adjoining the one on fire, was a private residence, and slightly damaged by water. The entire loss will not fall much, if anything, short of $10 000.

A fire broke out yesterday morning, about 11 o'cleck, in the building 126 William street, occupied by T. Conover as a window-shade manufactory. The damage was tridling.
